

The Recording

On Mondays afternoon at two o'clock we did a recording. We started with a piece on the harpsichord played by Maggie Cole. The piece was called Partita V. It was very good. The piece had 7 movements in it. There was a control room at the top of the building where we were working. The recording took place in ~~the~~ Georges church in bristol. Half way through we had a break and Maggie came up to the control room to have some coffee while downstairs Andrew tuned the ~~organ~~ ~~organ~~. Our next piece was called French suite no. 1. This piece was by a man called Bach. Bach was one of the most famous composers to live. This piece was played with a lot of life in it.

Maggie playing the harpsichord.

Maggie

